This book examines the fate and role of human rights before, during and in the aftermath of violent conflicts. It brings together both scholars and practitioners from different parts of the world and from different disciplines, including law, anthropology, history, conflict studies, development studies and international relations. The roles of international organisations, NGOs, governments, and corporations in realising human rights are discussed. The book thus reflects the 'de-approach' to human rights research that has been advocated and pioneered by Bas de Gaay Fortman: de-legalise, de-Westernise, and de-State-ise, together with his instance that human rights research should not just be about norms, but as much, if not more, about the economic, political, social, and cultural aspects of the distinct environments in which these rights have to be realised.
Contents

Introduction
Human Rights Before, During, and After Conflict – Ronald Janse

Part I. Human Rights in Pre-Conflict Situations
Human Rights and the Regulation of the International State System – Duco Hellema
Structures of Violence – Jolle Demmers
More Than Just a Nice Idea. Equality as an Effective Way to Reduce the Risk of Violent Conflict – Jenny Goldschmidt and Laura Henderson
Human Rights Violations and Contemporary Violent Conflict. An Inquiry into Causes and Remedies – Georg Freiks
Banning Cluster Bombs. Achieving Rights through Activism – Georg Freiks, Miriam Struyk and Roos Boer
Constraints and Challenges in Minority Protection. Experience of the OSCE High Commissioner on National Minorities – Natalie Sabanadze
Early Warning, Non-Intervention and Failed Responsibility to Protect in Rwanda and Darfur – Fred Grünfeld
Climate Change, Conflict and the Protection of Vulnerable Collectivities – M.A. Mohamed Salih
From Charity to Institutional Development. Reflections on Newmont’s Corporate Social Responsibility Strategies and Conflict-Avoidance in Ghana – Radu Mares
Doing Business in Pre-Conflict Areas – Tineke Lambooy
Conflict and Rights in Vengeance-Ridden Societies. Moral and Legal Inferences – Fatos Tarla

Part II. Human Rights in Conflict Situations
Human Rights and Humanitarian Action – Dorothea Hilhorst and Bram J. Jansen
Old Cultures Never Die? Cultural Genocide in International Law – Yvonne Donders
Non-State Actors in Conflict – Anja Mihr
Caught in the Middle of Persistent Conflict. The Rights of Palestinian Children – Karin Arts

Part III. Human Rights in Post-Conflict Situations
Counter-Terrorism, Rule of Law Promotion and the Friends of Yemen – Ronald Janse
The Role of International Criminal Courts and Tribunals in Post-Conflict Societies – Gentian Zyberi
Rwanda’s Police Development – Piet van Reenen
Civil and Political Rights in Times of Political Oppression: Rights Without Remedies? The Case of Zambia – Rodger M.A. Chongwe and Nicola Jägers
Role of the Judiciary in the Enforcement of Economic, Social and Cultural Rights. Experience from Nepal – Kalyan Shrestha and Ananda M. Bhattarai
Loss and Destruction of Property. Post-Conflict Human Rights Responses from an ECHR Perspective – Antoine Buyse
The Human Right to Mourning. Social Trauma and Transitional Justice in Post-Conflict Argentina – Antonius Robben
The Interface Between Transitional Justice and Reconciliation in the Wake of Civil War. A Case Study of Northern Uganda – Lauren Gould and Cedric Ryngaert Rodger