MEMORIALS IN TIMES OF TRANSITION
SERIES ON TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE

The Series on Transitional Justice offers a platform for high-quality research within the rapidly growing field of transitional justice. The research is, of necessity inter-disciplinary in nature, drawing from disciplines such as law, political science, history, sociology, criminology, anthropology and psychology, as well as from various specialised fields of study such as human rights, victimology and peace studies. Furthermore, the research is international in outlook, drawing on the knowledge and experience of academics and other specialists in many different regions of the world.

The series is aimed at a variety of audiences who are either working or interested in fields such as crime and justice; human rights; humanitarian law and human security; conflict resolution and peace building. These audiences include academics, researchers, students, policy makers, practitioners, non-governmental organisations and the media.

All books published within the series are subject to a double-blind peer review by recognised authorities in the field.

The General Editors of the Series are:
– Prof. Stephan Parmentier (Catholic University of Leuven, Belgium)
– Prof. Jeremy Sarkin (University of South Africa)
– Prof. Elmar Weitekamp (University of Tübingen, Germany)

The general editors receive the support from an Editorial Committee and an Advisory Board, consisting of internationally renowned academics and practitioners.

Published titles within this Series:
5. Antoine Buyse (ed.), Margins of Conflict. The ECHR and Transitions to and from Armed Conflict (2011), 978-94-000-0157-2

For previous volume in the series, please visit http://tj.intersentia.com

Series on Transitional Justice, Volume 16
MEMORIALS IN TIMES OF TRANSITION

Edited by
Susanne Buckley-Zistel
Stefanie Schäfer
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

A volume like this is only possible through the joint efforts and cooperation of many people – most of who remain invisible in the finalised copy. The initial idea for this volume was borne out of a conference by the Irmgard Coninx Foundation in October 2009 entitled ‘Memory Politics: Education, Memorials and Mass Media’. The chapters by Katrien Klep and Elizabeth Strakosch are based on their respective contributions to this conference. The editors of this volume want to thank Ingo Richter and Sabine Berking of the Irmgard Coninx Foundation for their support in nurturing and editing this volume from the start. Moreover, the research of Christian Braun and Susanne Buckley-Zistel emerged in the context of a research project entitled ‘The Politics of Building Peace. Transitional Justice, Reconciliation Initiatives and Unification Policies in War-torn Societies’ (2008–2012) which received substantial funding from the German Research Foundation to which we would like to extend our gratitude. On a more technical level, further invaluable help came from Anne Lang and Friederike Mieth who assisted us in copy-editing. Finally, we want to thank the editors of this series for being very supportive and encouraging in pursuing this volume.
CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ................................................. v

Memorials in Times of Transition
   Susanne Buckley-Zistel and Stefanie Schäfer ................. 1

1. Social Memory, Memorials and Meaning ..................... 3
2. Memorialisation, Memorials and Transitional Justice ........ 7
3. Forms of Memorials in Times of Transition ................. 14
4. Structure of the Volume .................................. 21
Bibliography .................................................. 24

1. CONNECTING TRANSITIONAL JUSTICE AND MEMORIALS

Chapter 1.
Memorialisation in Post-conflict Societies in Africa: Potentials and Challenges
   Ereshnee Naidu ........................................... 29

1. Debates in the Field of Transitional Justice ................ 31
2. Symbolic Reparations and Memorialisation in Post-conflict Societies 32
4. Conclusion .............................................. 41
Bibliography .................................................. 43

Chapter 2.
Reflecting the Fractured Past: Memorialisation, Transitional Justice and the Role of Outsiders
   Judy Barsalou .............................................. 47

1. Defining Memorialisation: Forms, Timing, Initiators and Intentions 48
2. Memorialisation and Types of Conflict ....................... 51
   2.1. Dictatorships and Political Repression ................. 52
   2.2. Ethnic Conflict ........................................ 53
   2.3. Mass Killings and Genocide ............................ 54
3. Connecting Memorialisation to Transitional Justice and Reconciliation 55

Inter sentia

vii
Contents

4. Getting Involved: The Role of Outsiders in Memorialisation 59
5. Conclusion 64

Bibliography 65

Chapter 3.

Alétheia and the Making of the World: Inner and Outer Dimensions of Memorials in Rwanda

Julia Viebach 69

1. Memorialisation in Rwanda 72
2. Inside and Outside of Memorials 77
   2.1. Making the World: Inside of Memorials 78
       2.1.1. To the Beginnings: The Unmaking of the World 80
       2.1.2. Fragments of World Alteration: The Practice of Care-taking and Human Remains as Collective Artefacts 81
   2.2. Alétheia: The Outer Dimension of Memorials 84
       2.2.1. Memory-Truth 84
       2.2.2. Memory-Justice 86
       2.2.3. The Unforgotten: Suffering and Victimhood in the Visuality and Materiality of Memorials 89
3. Juxtaposing Alétheia and Making the World or Juxtaposing Inner and Outer Dimensions 92

Bibliography 93

II. MEMORIAL SPACES AND REPRESENTATION

Chapter 4.

Detained in the Memorial Hohenschönhausen: Heterotopias, Narratives and Transitions from the Stasi Past in Germany

Susanne Buckley-Zistel 97

1. The Berlin-Hohenschönhausen Memorial Museum 99
2. Analysing Memorial Museums 101
3. Of Other Spaces: Inside Hohenschönhausen 104
   3.1. The Physical Structures 105
   3.2. The Guided Tours 108
4. Out of Other Spaces: Outside Hohenschönhausen 112
   4.1. Transitional Justice and Memory in Germany 113
   4.2. Competing Narratives and the ‘Aufarbeitungskombinat’ 115
5. The Gap between Transition and Justice 119

Bibliography 122
Chapter 5.
Stories of Beginnings and Endings: Settler Colonial Memorials in Australia
Elizabeth STRAKOSCH .................................................... 125
1. Settler Colonialism .................................................. 128
2. Colonial Beginnings ............................................... 131
3. Colonial Endings .................................................. 133
4. Transitional Justice and Reconciliation Memorials ................. 136
5. Reconciliation Place as Colonial Ending .......................... 139
6. Conclusion .......................................................... 144
Bibliography ................................................................... 145

Chapter 6.
Manicured Nails but Shackled Hands? The Representation of Women in Northern Ireland’s Post-conflict Memory
Kristian BROWN ........................................................... 149
1. The Northern Ireland Troubles .................................... 150
2. Transitional Justice and Memorialisation in a Divided Society .... 151
3. Women and Memory in Northern Ireland ......................... 153
   3.1. A Complex Gender Matrix: Nationalisms, Peace-making and ‘the Troubles’ ........................................... 153
   3.2. Gendered Memories of the Northern Ireland Conflict:
        Marginalisation ................................................... 155
4. The Representation of Women in Irish Republican Memorials ...... 157
   4.1. Women and Historical Struggle ............................. 159
   4.2. Woman as Fighter .............................................. 160
   4.3. Woman as Prisoner ............................................ 160
   4.4. Woman as Victim ............................................. 162
   4.5. Woman as Symbol of the Nation ............................ 162
   4.6. Woman as Resisting Citizen .................................. 162
   4.7. Woman as Icon or Martyr .................................... 163
   4.8. Woman as Mother ............................................ 163
5. Representations of Republican Women: Beyond Marginalisation? .... 164
6. Possible Futures in Representing the Past ............................ 166
7. Conclusion .................................................................. 168
Bibliography ................................................................... 169
III. CONTESTATION AND POLITISATION OF MEMORIALS

Chapter 7.
The Srebrenica-Potočari Memorial: Promoting (In)Justice?
Christian Braun .......................................................... 173

1. The Srebrenica Memorial as an Example for Memorials in Divided Societies ........................................ 175
2. The Srebrenica-Potočari Memorial ........................................... 177
   2.1. The Form of the Srebrenica-Potočari Memorial ....................... 179
   2.2. Exploring the Memorial: The Narratives of Commemorating Genocide ........................................ 180
   2.3. Narratives of Remembrance ........................................... 184
   2.4. Conceiving and Construction of the Memorial ................. 188
      2.4.1. The Serb Community: Denial and Obstruction ............ 188
      2.4.2. The International Community: Between Security and Shame ........................................ 189
      2.4.3. The Bosniaks: Mourning, Revenge and Political Benefits ........................................ 191
   2.5. The Memorial in the Mind of the Community ............. 192
3. Transitional Justice in Divided Societies ................................. 194
Bibliography ........................................................................ 196

Chapter 8.
Memorials, Memorialisation and Social Action in Santiago de Chile
Katrien Klep ................................................................. 199

1. Transitional Justice and Memorialisation ............................. 202
2. The Cemetery: Mourning and Demands of Justice at the Memorial del Detenido Desaparecido y del Ejecutado Político 204
3. The City: Political Agency and Public Debate at Londres 38, Espacio de Memorias ....................................... 208
4. Local and National Dynamics of Memorialisation ............ 215
Bibliography ........................................................................ 218

Chapter 9.
Commemorating the Famine as Genocide: The Contested Meanings of Holodomor Memorials in Ukraine
Tatiana Zhurzhenko ......................................................... 221

1. The Holodomor as Genocide: National Memory in the Age of Globalisation ........................................ 224
2. Memorialising the Holodomor as Genocide ..................... 228
Contents

3. The ‘Candle of Memory’: The National Memorial to the Victims of the Holodomor in Kyiv .................................................. 231
4. The Holodomor Memorial in Kharkiv ......................................... 236
5. Conclusion ............................................................................. 240
Bibliography .............................................................................. 241

About the Authors ..................................................................... 243